Common questions and answers:

Why are you asking patients for their consent?

We would like to be able to contact patients and carers occasionally to ask them questions about the practice and how well we are doing to identify areas for improvement.

Will my doctor see this information?

This information is purely to contact patients to ask them questions about the practice, how well we are doing, and ensure changes that are being made are patient focused. If your doctor is responsible for making some of the changes in the practice they might see general feedback from patients.

Will the questions you ask me be medical or personal?

We will only ask general questions about the practice, using for example a short questionnaire.

Who else will be able to access my contact details?

Your contact details will be kept safely and securely by the practice and will only be used for this purpose and will not be shared with anyone else.

How often will you contact me?

Not very often, about 3 or 4 times a year.

What if I no longer wish to be on the contact list or if I leave the practice?

We will ask you to let us know by email if you do not wish to receive further messages. You can do this at any time.
